A Day with us

Doctors Round:

You'll be looked after by a team of doctors led by a consultant. You'll have daily visits from at least one member of the team both in morning and afternoon. These visits aren't just for them to tell you things – this is an opportunity for you to tell them how you're feeling and ask any questions you may have.

Whenever a healthcare professional comes to see you during your stay, they should explain what they're doing or plan to do. If you do not understand what they've said please do not be afraid to ask them to explain.

Nurse Call system:

Usually, there are two/three shifts during the day and night in all In-House wards. Each shift receives "hand- over information" and the Nurses are updated on each guest with regards to specific care and needs required. Nurses will do rounds at regular intervals to provide nursing care and follows instructions as per your Doctor's orders. If you require any assistance from your bedside nurse, kindly press the call bell located next to your bed. You can also dial the Nurses' station directly from your suite for your convenience.

Safety and fire exit:

If you discover a fire:

- Call for assistance and operate the nearest fire alarm.
- Move away from the danger area and wait for further instructions from the ward staff.

On hearing the fire alarm:

- If it is safe to do so, stay in your ward area and wait for instructions from the ward staff.
- If you need to move away from danger, follow the fire exit signs, but stay on the ward until you are instructed to move.

Feedback:

We value your feedback. The Guest Relations Coordinators are there to deal with any of your concerns and you can fill in your comments in the feedback forms.

Visitation Policy:

Al-Ahli Hospital believes that family members and friends could help speed up our Guests' recovery and recuperation. Hence, we encourage visits from the family and friends of our distinguished In-House Guests.

However, to ensure total healing and comfortable stay, we kindly request visitors to abide by the following visitation policies:
